

Since I pay the phone bill, it should be my right to block unwanted solicitations. Telemarketers should have no rights; they infringe upon my right to privacy. If I am interested in what they have to solicit, I will find them, I don't want them calling me.